Council preserves school

By TOM BURKE

The Campbell City Council approved the planning commission's decision to slightly reroute the planned north loop street in downtown Campbell.

The council also heard public presentations from residents of El Caminito Avenue protesting a planning commission decision issuing a permit for a residential day care home on that street.

The north loop plan was slightly changed to save the old main building of Campbell Grammar School. The original plan for the loop street, designed as part of the Civic Center Drive master plan, would have destroyed the oldest part of the building.

Councilman Norman Paul said he thought damage to the building could lead to "excessive severance damage claims" on the part of the Campbell Union School District if the property's value was damaged by the loss of the building.

The Campbell Civic Improvement Commission had earlier requested the building be saved for future consideration as an historical landmark. However the commission and city planners noted saving the building by altering the street plan would mean the destruction of five large trees.

In a separate action the council approved funding for the work on the north loop street.

The council heard opposition from neighbors of a proposed day care center but took no action, so the earlier planning commission decision remained in effect.

City attorney Robert Dempster told the council state law took precedence in this case and cited a similar appeals court case in Los Angeles which he said showed cities cannot restrict the use of small family residences for homes of this kind.

The council also had received a letter saying the same thing from the state department of health.

However one resident of El Caminito Ave., Henry Kahrmann, told the council the state law was written as a recommendation, a point Dempster disagreed with.

"The law doesn't leave it (regulation) optional with the city government. It's not a pleasure to sit here and say that, but the beef you have is with the legislature," Dempster said.

The council also was slated to take up the matter of the city's parking district and the problem of attaining the easements from downtown property owners necessary to the project.

Planning director Joe Elliot said earlier he had contacted 21 of the 27 property owners involved and "a substantial majority of them" said no easement would be granted. Elliot said he had no further recommendation to make.

We Hear You

Any gripes, kudos, or ideas? Call 378-9136 to sound off.

I think it's great that the city's putting up money for the downtown ($94,700 in HCD funds for the semi mall) but that won't be for eight months at least and in the meantime many of the merchants can't last. The big problem, though, is making that street one way — and one lane too. Some of us will be able to make it until the other loop street opens and the mall is in — but a lot won't.

Downtown Merchant

Why won't plants grow on the Morgan Park bank near Budd avenue and the San Tomas expressway? Along the other end it looks great but it's a mess on the south end.

Editor's note: Bob Diaz of the Campbell Public Works department referred us to the county who is responsible for planting and maintaining that area. Glen Foreman of Santa Clara County Road Operations said that because of the lack of rain, workers have been enlarging the plants' watering basins and doing more mulching to reduce water evaporation. He said he would send out his road foreman to look at the area and assess the problem.

Diaz, by the way, announced that the city is redesigning some of the median strips and he needs some clean fill to put in the Hamilton ave. median strip. Anyone with good dirt to donate can call him at 378-8141 and ask for the corporation yard.

It may surprise the stream of traffic that uses Christopher ave. in Campbell that the fuzzy blurs they glimpse as they speed by are people.

These people are mothers who worry about their children playing on the sidewalks; parents who hesitate to allow their children to play with friends who live across the street; elderly people who'd like to visit neighbors across the street; children who have difficulty turning around their big-wheels on the narrow sidewalks; property owners who resent cars driving up on their lawns at night; and residents who put up with the traffic noise.

Both the police and department of public works are aware of the traffic problem on Christopher ave.

However, because their response is nil, I'm appealing to drivers who use Christopher ave.: "SLOW DOWN!"

Thank you,
Nancy Leopold

Downtown rehabilitation

Home loan plan underway

MANY HOMEOWNERS in the downtown area could get low cost loans to improve their home exteriors as part of the new city housing rehabilitation program.

Improvement of many of central Campbell's older homes would be aided by low cost financing which the city has tentatively arranged with Crocker Bank.

The housing rehabilitation program was designed by the city Planning Department and authorized March 14 by the City Council as part of the overall community development program. The council authorized the program for homes in central Campbell between Hamilton avenue on the north, Kennedy avenue on the south, the Southern Pacific Railroad on the east and Winchester boulevard on the west.

Further extension of the rehabilitation program at a later date to the San Tomas area west of downtown has been suggested by city planners.

COUNTY HOUSING counselors would survey applicants' homes to evaluate the proposed improvements and their estimated cost. Job supervision and assistance in dealing with contractors would also be provided.

Financial assistance would be made either through low cost loans of 4 to 8 per cent or by setting a minimum monthly payment rate. The council also has approved a $200 incentive grant for exterior improvement to downtown homes whose condition has been checked by a housing counsellor.

To qualify, a homeowner's income cannot exceed 150 per cent of the average county income (no more than $24,750 for a family of four) and:

—The improved house must be occupied by the owner.
—Have no more than three units, two rental units, on the property.
— It must be zoned either residential or mixed "residential-business."

HOMEOWNERS meeting these qualifcations but ineligible for financial aid could still get the survey and contractor assistance.

City housing coordinator Thom McCue estimated 250 homes in the downtown area could qualify for improvement assistance. For further information contact McCue at City Hall, 75 N. Central Ave. or call 378-8141.

Diridon to critics

'County action saved cities money'

By TOM BURKE

RESPONDING to charges by Campbell officials that the county failed to meet its revenue sharing obligations, Supervisor Rod Diridon said recently the county bypassed established procedure but gained Campbell and other West Valley communities more money than they would have received otherwise.

Three weeks ago the supervisors moved to retain for the county $192,000 of an almost $500,000 federal Housing and Community Development fund (HCD) earmarked for the cities in Santa Clara county.

Diridon agreed this action was contrary to a 1975 contract signed by the county and Campbell. But he said part of the $192,000 was used t to fund a fair housing study and task force which the cities would have had to pay for themselves. Keeping these funds, he said, was part of a deal he made with the other supervisors to exclude San Jose from receiving more of that HCD allocation.

"San Jose didn't receive any more of the allocation, which made the allocation to the rest of the county substantially higher," Diridon said. "It's the county's money and it would have gone to the cities in proportion to their populations, with San Jose getting roughly half — if we had followed normal allocation procedure," he added.

THE 1975 CONTRACT specified the county was to disburse HCD funds to the cities, subtracting only its administrative costs. Campbell officials, including Mayor Bill Podgorsek who made his protest in a letter, objected to the county's subtracting the additional funds.

Diridon said the county had to rush to qualify for the funds this time, necessitating the deviation from normal procedures. "The problem was we didn't have time to take it all to the (cities') allocation review committee because a deadline was upon us and we didn't have time to go through the formal procedure. The fair housing study and task force are required programs (for obtaining continued HCD funds). If not HCD, then property taxes would be spent on the programs to qualify for long term HCD money," he said.

"I agree the procedure was not followed and should have been but these programs popped up at the last moment and became available," Diridon added.

"I'll pledge that we go through the review process in the future," Diridon said.

BUT HE ADDED the supervisors' action netted Campbell more money than it would have received had the contract procedure been followed.

"First, we got $100,000 (for Campbell), about one third more than we would have. Second, we avoided taking the funding for these programs out of the property tax," he said.

Frank Copeland former constable dies at age 83

FRANK F. COPELAND, constable in Campbell before the city's incorporation, died March 28 in the Odd Fellows Home in Saratoga. He was 83.

Copeland was appointed constable in Campbell by the Santa Clara County board of supervisors in 1927 and held that post through the end of the 1930's while also operating a ranch near what is now the corner of Hamilton and N. Central avenues.

After joining the U.S. Army in 1918 he married Eva E. Eldred on April 23, 1918 and shortly after that went to France to serve with the 144th Field Artillery. He saw action in the Meuse-Argonne offensive and as a soldier of the occupation army in Germany.

Copeland was a member of the Morning Light Lodge of the Odd Fellows in Campbell since 1912 and a charter member of American Legion Post 158.

He is survived by his wife, his sons Eldred of Orlando, Fla., howard of Walnut Creek and Raymond of San Jose, his daughter Mrs. Gertrude Ford of Los Gatos and five grandchildren.

Services and interment were March 31 at Oak Hill Cemetery.

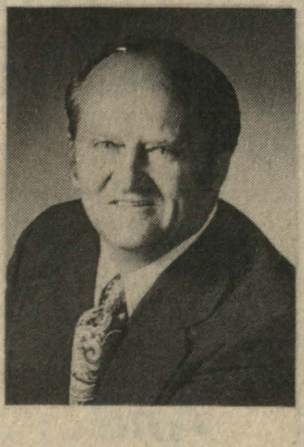
Bus fares, hours for seniors up for debate

Senior citizens in this county are being faced with an increase in bus fare and a change of hours in which they can ride free. The Council on Aging is sponsoring a Senior Transit Forum to discuss this issue and to hear from seniors, on Monday, April 18, at 2 p.m., at the American Red Cross, 333 McKendrie in San Jose.

The County Transit District has been testing a program for the last six months where seniors 65 and over could ride the buses free during certain hours, and for 10 cents at other hours. The new policy would change the hours for free rides and increase the fare to 25 cents at other times. The county's policy has been postponed to allow seniors a chance to speak out as to the times, hours, and costs they feel would best meet their needs.

The Forum is being held as part of the council's regular monthly board of directors meeting. Seniors and representatives from all senior organizations are urged to attend.



Gordon R. Clarke of Milwaukee, a practitioner and teacher of Christian Science and a member of the Christian Science Board of Lectureship, will speak on "The Touch of Spirit" Sunday, April 17, at 3 p.m. The free lecture, sponsored by First Church of Christ, Scientist in Campbell, will be at First Congregational Church at Hamilton and Leigh avenues in San Jose.

NO RAINSTORM caused this water-soaked street. A leak in an old main caused 12,000 gallons of water to go down the drain recently on Virginia ave.

We hear you

The water main along Virginia ave. near Sunnyoaks sprang another leak. This time I reported it at 5 p.m. one night and the leaks were still running into the gutter the next morning. What gives? Also, how much water was wasted?

Conservationist

Editor's note: The San Jose Water Works says they'll be replacing that old main as soon as possible, but right now they're waiting for materials. This old main has been a problem for months and crews have been out there day and night — as soon as one leak is fixed it seems that another pops up in another spot. The San Jose people say it's impossible to tell how much water was lost during the 15 hours that leak went unchecked, but using a standard formula, the leak appeared to be at the same rate of runoff your neighbor would use if he overwatered his lawn and let it run into the gutter. Waste is 12 gallons a minute, times 15 hours, for close to 12,000 gallons lost down the drain.

A few weeks ago the Campbell Press published an item about two attempted rapes at Campbell junior high.

Last week at a parent orientation meeting for incoming 7th grade students, I asked the principal what he (his school) was doing about this situation. His reply was that he had HEARD that there was ONE attempted rape, that it was off the school grounds during the weekend, that the girl had NOT been harmed and that the way he found out about it was that he read it in the newspaper when he returned to school on Monday morning. This statement was made in front of all of the parents attending the meeting.

My understanding is that the police report stated two attempted rapes occurred on the school grounds during the school day or shortly thereafter and that one of the girls was, indeed, harmed. It also stated that the males involved had revolvers.

Why did the principal want to cover up the truth?

A Concerned Parent

Editor's note: The March 2 issue of the Campbell Press carried a story of two attempted rapes on the Campbell junior high school grounds, both occurring Monday, Feb. 21, but otherwise unrelated. They were both reported to the police department.

The first occurred about 2:30 p.m. when a man accosted a 14-year-old student in Morgan Park and chased her in a vehicle to the field behind the school. The girl was able to get away from her attacker.

In the second incident, another 14-year-old girl was returning to get books from her locker about 4:45 p.m. when she was accosted. She was choked and threatened with a knife, but fought her attacker and got away.

The school principal could not be reached for comment at press time.

An overdue explosion

The last meeting of the Campbell Union School District (CUSD) trustees saw some feelings which have apparently smoldered in unhealthy isolation within the confidential confines of executive session burst forth with force and vehemence before an unsuspecting public. To those who are regular observers of the board and who believe that the board's business is the public's business, and that the feelings of board members about the issues are part of the public's business, the explosion was long overdue. That the issues raised, issues which go to the basic organization and functioning of the board as a public body, should properly be hidden away from public scrutiny is a theory which could find adherents only among those who believe that the public business should be conducted in private, by the few, for the few.

No one could pretend that the bitter feelings or the events which caused them bode well for the future of CUSD. However, now that the feelings are out in the open, the opportunity for board members to put their public obligation above their oft-manifested over-sized egos clearly presents itself. If this board is to properly serve its elected functions, some statesmanship must be exhibited; some willingness to compromise for the public good.

If the board majority wishes to disprove the charge of Trustee Vaughn that she has been denied her co-equal right to full participation in the affairs of the board, that opportunity is immediately available, and requires that they do nothing more than what is obviously and traditionally expected of them.

Whether based objectively on length of service, usual or traditional procedures, the fact that she received the highest public vote of confidence in the recent election; subjectively on her obvious capabilities, her commitment to democratic procedures in the conduct of board business; or equitably on the basis that it is just plain "her turn"; no member of this board can properly deny that Jennie Vaughn is the logical choice to become the new presiding officer of this board.

Not only would her election dispel the doubts of members of the public who have seen Mrs. Vaughn passed over in previous years while the board elected newer, less experienced trustees to board offices, but it would be a major step in the direction Mrs. Baird pointed at the last meeting when she said, ". . . we have to work together as mature adults to solve our problems."

We wait, we watch, to see the actions April 14 of mature, responsible adults who place their public duty above their personal feelings.

Westmont students in music convention

SEVERAL Westmont high school students were selected from hundreds of applicants to participate in the California Music Educators Association (CMEA) state convention recently.

The concert was held at the Center of the Performing Arts last week. Members of the honor choir were senior Lutz Moldenhouer, and juniors Gina Palmieri and Alan Russel. Participating in the honor orchestra were senior Jane Allen, and juniors Linda Havey, and Robin Lemmerman.

Other Westmont high school students rated outstanding in the Solo-Ensemble Festival that was held recently at San Jose State University were Kevin Marr with the trombone, who received a Command Performance; Robin Lemmerman, violin; Al Hall, guitar; and Karen Froberg, clarinet, who also won a Command Performance.

There may be some rough sledding for Roger — the first male OB technician

FIRST MALE graduate of the West Valley College obstetrics technician program Roger Martarano demonstrates his skills on Kathy Formosa in the Kaiser Hospital emergency room. Also a licensed vocational nurse, Roger is looking for a job in a hospital maternity ward.

Roger Martarano served as a medic in the Vietnam war and wanted to use his medical experience in civilian life. He worked briefly as a hospital orderly, but found the job too limiting, so he enrolled in the licensed vocational nursing program at West Valley College.

After inquiring about various nursing courses offered, he said, "I found that West Valley's LVN program was rated the highest in Northern California."

During the clinical training, which exposed him to different aspects of nursing, Roger discovered that he wanted more than anything to work in obstetrics.

"I didn't know I was going to be excited about OB until I got into it," he recalled. "It was an environment of life beginning." New life has a special meaning for the brown-haired young veteran since he was badly wounded in the war and almost died. After recovering he felt reborn, with a totally different outlook on life.

He took an additional course at West Valley to train as an OB technician, but had some reservations. "In nursing, basically, it's always been a woman's role. How were the patients going to accept a male being there?" Things turned out fine between Roger and the patients during the training. When he finished, however, he realized that, just as it took time for men to be accepted in the nursing field, it was going to be a while before he could find a job in a hospital maternity ward.

For now, he's gaining valuable experience in the emergency room at Kaiser Hospital, where his special training is often useful.

A patient himself for over 15 months while recuperating from his wounds, Roger understands the difference between a good and a bad nurse. "A lot of nursing is being able to understand people. They say one thing to you and mean another. A good nurse should be able to pick this up," he explained.

Roger is especially interested in helping teach natural childbirth classes. He believes fathers would get more involved if there were a male figure in the classroom. He also approves of letting fathers into the delivery room, which most hospitals now allow.

"Every once in a while," the nurse explained, "things happen where the baby doesn't make it. If the husband sees, along with the wife, that the doctors did everything they could to save it, both accept it later."

Roger said his wife, Kathy, understands what the birth experience means to him and supports his ambitions. They plan to have children of their own in a few years. "I wish I was able to have the baby," he mused. "I can feel what the woman is going through but it's not the same thing."

Since his near-death experience, Roger's life has changed in other ways. "I've given up all my guns and substituted them with a camera. I love to hunt animals with a camera."

He also enjoys camping and fishing, creating pottery pieces and listening to music — everything from Beatles to Beethoven. Sometime he writes poetry.

Confident that eventually he'll be able to work as an OB technician (he was the first male to graduate in that program from West Valley), Roger said he may study to be an RN later. At present, though, he finds his job at Kaiser "mind-stimulating." "If I can be somewhere where I can help someone, making things easier during a traumatic time in their life, I'm really turned on. I feel like I'm here for a purpose."

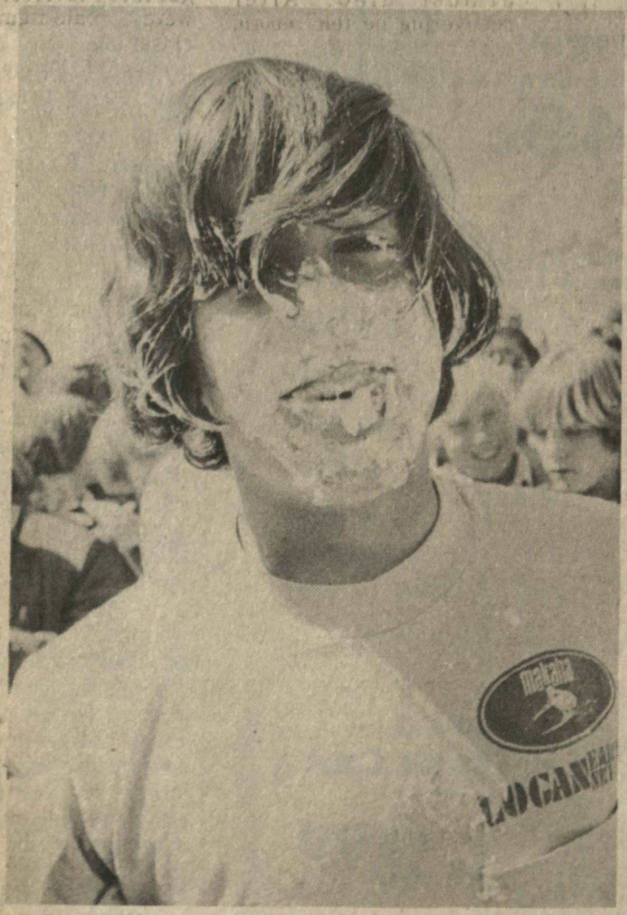
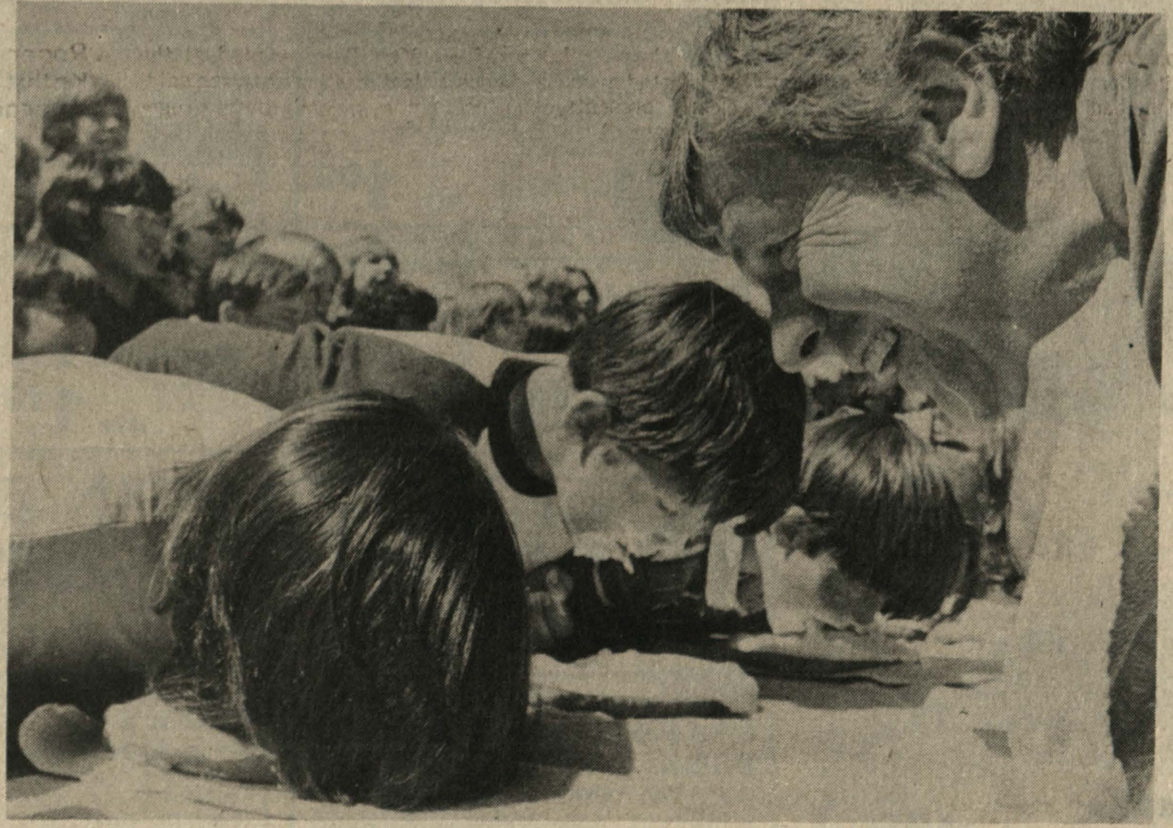
Here's pie in your eye ...and hair and clothes

Such a great way to liven up the day on the junior high school campus. There was no shortage of contestants in the contest and the pies were gone before students ran out of steam.

The winner and grand champion of the Rolling Hills Pie Eating Contest was Brett Hewitt who showed poise in the face of cherring crowds and the gooey mess.



Second place went to Mark Worth who showed he wasn't afraid of getting his face (and hair) a little messed up for the honor. Third place winner was Eddie Valles.



The popular contest was sponsored by Campbell Community Services which donated the official timer and the whipped cream plastered pie for the event.

Principal Bob Turk (holding up paper) tries to announce the winner but students were too busy watching the also-rans to pay much attention.

Energy costs going up

Conservation pays off in lower power bills

THE INCREASING cost of energy makes it more important than ever for customers to learn how to practice strict energy conservation, a Pacific Gas and Electric Company official said today.

"Energy conservation is no longer merely fashionable, or a simple slogan," said John S. Cooper, PG&E Manager of Energy Conservation and Services. "It has become an important part of everybody's budget. Without effective energy conservation, consumers of electricity and natural gas burden themselves with higher-than-necessary utility bills."

Cooper said homeowners, in particular, should take the simple step of installing inexpensive insulation to lower heating bills in winter and air conditioning bills in summer.

Cooper also urged that consumers learn how to read their electric and gas meters on a day-to-day basis to check on their energy use. He suggested they learn which appliances use the most energy in their homes, so they can make power cutbacks sensibly. "We have pamphlets at all PG&E offices giving this information," he said. "Business and industry are also urged to conserve to save both energy and money. PG&E has programs for commercial and industrial customers who need help meeting their energy budgets," Cooper added.

COOPER SAID that under the new rates applied for to cover increased electric energy costs, a homeowner will pay about $86 a year for electricity to operate a typical 16-cubic foot frost-free refrigerator-freezer. By minimizing door opening, keeping the cooling coils clean of dust and providing adequate ventilation, the homeowner can reduce energy use and save up to $9. Special features, such as power saver switches, should be used to save even more. Conventional refrigerators and freezers should be kept defrosted for maximum efficiency.

Turning off lights in rooms not in use can cut the average electric light bill of $48 by 20 per cent, for a savings of almost $10. An electric range costs an average of $30 per year to use, but not peeking while cooking, not pre-heating the oven and using the lowest possible cooking temperatures will save 20 per cent in electric energy, or $6.

IF YOU are using a dishwasher, make sure it is fully loaded. Small batches of dishes should be washed by hand. Dishwashers which can be shut off before beginning the "dry" cycle, can save 40 per cent or almost $6 per year.

Owners of tube-type color television sets, can save $5 per year by simply leaving the set turned off for an extra hour each day. "Instant on" features of some television sets take extra energy; if this feature can be turned off, doing so can save up to $16 a year. Electric clothes dryers typically cost $56 a year to operate. By using only full loads and avoiding overdrying, homeowners can save 10 per cent, or up to $6 a year. Hanging clothes on a line in the sunshine will dry them fresh and free.

energy-saving measures around the house are possible, just those outlined here for certain electric appliances can save the average homeowner or renter between $40 and $60 a year, PG&E said. Shoppers for new appliances should keep these savings in mind as they make their selection. Significant differences in energy use exist between models. Comparative shopping can pay off in lower power bills.

COOPER OFFERED suggestions for conserving natural gas also. If the proposed rate increases are granted, after July 1 the yearly operating cost of a typical central heating furnace will be $220. Lowering the thermostat to 65° and replacing the furnace filter regularly can save up to 20 per cent, or $44. The average gas water heater costs $80 a year to operate. Maintaining a "medium" heater setting and using less hot water for shaving and showering can result in $8 annual savings.

For small amounts of food, cook with small appliances rather than using the oven unit of your gas range, or if your range has two ovens, use the smaller one. If shopping for a new or replacement gas range, choose one with a pilotless ignition system. The conventional pilot light uses up to 40 per cent of the range's total natural gas use. A pilotless ignition can produce up to $10 in savings annually on the range's normal operating cost of $24 a year.

HIT A PARKED CAR

A 64-year-old Campbell man was arrested for drunk driving after a witness saw his large sedan hit a parked sports car. Police at the scene said when he gave the sobiety test he was unable to recite the alphabet, stand on one foot or walk a straight line.

Asked where he was driving, the suspect said he was going to get another bottle of brandy.

SELF SERVICE GAS

A man dressed only in cut-off blue jeans helped himself to $10 worth of gas at the Martin Oil Co., 851 E. Hamilton Ave., and then drove off without paying last Wednesday night.

THEY CAME WITH THE HOUSE

Police responding to a family disturbance call found 19 marijuana plants growing in window boxes outside the house. When the officers questioned the 20-year-old woman present she said they were her husband's.

Her 26-year-old husband was arrested later but claimed, "Those were there when I moved in, in January of 1976."

A REAL SHOW STOPPER

A 24-year-old Campbell man was charged with assault after police officers had to drag him kicking and screaming from a Factory nightclub last week.

Responding to a complaint that a man was causing trouble at the bar, the officers found the man yelling obscenities and imitating a guitar player. He had to be handcuffed and forcibly removed.

DRUNK DRIVING ARREST

Police stopped two Campbell men last week after observing their swerving car. They ended up charging one with drunk driving and both with giving false information to police.

When asked for his license, the driver got out of the car and his companion assumed his place, claiming to be the driver. They were arrested when the driver told officers he had no license. His companion was found to have his temporary license and a later check turned up his two previous convictions for drunk driving and a third case pending.

COULD BE PART MANX

A big, beautiful cat with white and golden brown distinctive markings was found recently in Campbell. She came to a cat lovers' doorstep April 4 in a "very, very weak condition" and is being cared for by their vet at this time. The family, though, has six cats of their own and do not care to enlarge their cat-family at this time.

The fluffy cat, who has a 3-inch tail "but doesn't look like a Manx," can be claimed by calling 378-3769.

PET FREE TO GOOD HOME

A local family is moving out of state and must find a good home for their female German Shepherd/Collie dog. She is nine months old, has some shots, and is "very, very good with children." The middle-sized dog has "beautiful coloring — mostly gold-blondish with black markings throughout her coat and she looks more like a Collie."

If you can provide a good home soon for this family pet, call 866-8349.

Dons return to WVAL play

Del Mar captures share of M-A title

THE DEL MAR Dons knew exactly what they had to do if they were to capture a share of the 20th annual Menlo-Atherton baseball tournament recently — they had to win their final two games of the tourney.

Trailing co-leaders Menlo-Atherton and Gunn by a game heading into the final weekend of play, the Dons posted back-to-back victories over the two clubs to finish in a tie with Gunn for the tourney title.

"We knew we had to win two and we did it," said a jubilant Gary Cunningham, the Dons' enthusiastic head coach. "I don't want to think about anything else right now. I just want to enjoy this one."

The Dons entered the final game of the tournament with a 3-2 record after beating Gunn in the first game of the day. Menlo-Atherton also took a 3-2 record into the final tilt, having lost to Samuel Ayer earlier in the day.

Del Mar, sparked by a pair of gutty pitching performances from arm weary hurlers Jeff Blobaum and Tom Harris, proceeded to pull out a 6-5 victory.

The dons and Gunn, which finished the day by beating Samuel Ayer, wound up the tourney with identical 4-2 records to share the tournament title.

"WE'RE NOT A flashy team," Cunningham said after the tournament. "We don't have one or two big stars. We just have a great bunch of kids who do a number of facets of the game well. We have pitchers who throw strikes, a solid defense and a couple of kids who can really swing the bat."

Mike Rusconi was the hero of the day in the Dons' finale against Menlo-Atherton, stroking three hits in three at bats and driving home three runs.

It was Rusconi's one out double in the bottom of the fifth, which scored Tom Bell from second, that proved to be the game winning hit.

In addition to capping the Dons' scoring for the day, Rusconi also started it with a lead-off bunt single in the second.

After Mark Intrieri reached first on an error, Craig Richesin beat out another bunt to load the bases. Infield grounders by Blobaum and Jim Dorr followed and resulted in two runs.

In the third, Del Mar loaded the bags on successive singled by Doc Medica, Yogi Taylor and Tom Bell. Rusconi then lashed a single to left-center, scoring Medica and Taylor.

Blobaum tossed the first five and one-third innings to pick up the win, while Harris picked up the save with an inning and two-thirds of relief work.

Harris was the winning pitcher earlier in the day in Del Mar's 7-5 triumph over Gunn.

AFTER Interieri was shelled for three runs and five hits in just three innings, Harris was called upon to pitch the fourth. The crafty southpaw proceeded to toss two innings, allowing no runs and just one hit. Bell came on to mop up the final two innings.

The Dons jumped on Gunn for six runs in the first two innings, four coming in the top of the first.

Junior first baseman Bob Quadros led-off the second with a walk and moved to third on Karl Martin's double to right-center. A single to right by Medica tallied Quadros and Martin scampered home on a sacrifice fly by Taylor.

Del Mar added an insurance runs in the sixth when Dorr singled home Quadros, who had opened the inning with a base hit.

Medica was three in the win while Bell and Martin each chipped in with two hits. Bob Cirvilleri drilled a triple and Kevin Cesar added a single.

A quartet of Dons were tabbed to the all-tournament team, including Taylor, who was an all-tourney pick last year. The Dons' slugger ripped the ball at a .538 clip during the tourney, stroking seven hits in 13 at bats.

RUSCONI ALSO batted a lofty .538 (seven for 13), which included a home run and five runs-batted in to earn a spot on the all-tourney squad along with teammates Bell (.500, seven for 14) and Medica (.400, eight for 20).

Honorable mention plaudits went to Martin (.714, five for seven), Harris (2-0, one save, 1.40 earned run average) and Eric Richesin (.316, six for 19).

Cunningham had special words of praise for Martin following his tournament performance.

"He does the little things that go unnoticed," said the Dons' boss. "But he's leading our club in runs scored (10), is the best defensive outfielder we have and is one of our top three base stealers. We needed him in the tournament and he came through."

The doubleheader sweep lifted Del Mar's season record to a sparkling 12-3, by far the best start in Don history.

Del Mar returns to West Valley Athletic League action this week with a 6-1 record and a narrow half game lead over the second place Blackford Braves (611).

The Dons, who played Los Gatos Tuesday, host the always tough Campbell Buccaneers Thursday in a 3 p.m. crucial.

"I still feel Campbell is the team to beat," noted Cunningham. "Their two losses came early. Since then they've been playing very well."

Bucs, Braves fall in bids for Easter Lion's crown

FOILED in their bid to capture the tournament title, the Campbell Buccaneers were quickly eliminated from further Easter Lion's tourney competition last Monday by the Mitty Monarchs.

After winning its first game, the Bucs were eliminated from title contention by the Monta Vista Matadors in second round action and then suffered a 9-3 setback against Mitty.

The Monarchs had a relatively easy time beating the Bucs, building up a 9-0 lead through four and a half innings before Campbell was able to get on the scoreboard.

Dan Trinidad scored the Bucs' first run on Dave Martin's two out single in the fifth. Trinidad had gotten on with a single and moved to second on Mark Raust's walk before Martin singled him home.

In the seventh, Steve Tindall started a two run uprising by reaching first on an error. Trinidad followed with a walk and both runners moved up a base on a passed ball.

Wes Mitchell plated Tindall with a sacrifice fly while Trinidad later scored on a Monarch error.

The loss left the Buccaneers with an 8-7 overall record for the season. Campbell, 5-2 in league, resumes West Valley Athletic League play this week.

The Bucs, who played Prospect on Tuesday, travel to Del Mar Thursday for an important showdown with the first place Dons.

THE FIRST time the two clubs met this season the Dons came away with the victory. But not before Campbell put up a real fight.

Trailing 6-0 with two out and no one on in the bottom of the seventh, the Buccaneers suddenly exploded for five runs before the final out was recorded.

The Blackford Braves, who began the week just a half game behind the league leading Dons, host the last place Camden Cougars Thursday.

In other games Thursday, Leigh hosts Branham and Prospect travels to Westmont. All games are set to start at 3:30 p.m.

Blackford, like Campbell, won its first game in the Lion's tournament only to lose its next two.

Lincoln ended the Braves' championship hopes with a 6-0 shut-out in second round action. Washington of Fremont then ousted the Braves with a 7-1 triumph.

Blackford only managed four hits in the loss and was shut-out through five innings. Losing pitcher Craig Morioka and his reliever, Cliff Pranschke, allowed just six hits.

Viking swimmers roll to lopsided double dual win

THE GOLDEN Gate Conference dual meet swimming season ended over two weeks ago for West Valley College, but the Vikings haven't just been treading water since wrapping up the GGC regular season.

West Valley rolled to a lopsided double dual meet victory over Cypress and San Joaquin Delta last Friday during the Easter vacation break to keep in tune as the Vikings prepare for the Golden Gate Conference championships.

The Vikes, 6-1 during the GGC dual season, will head to Chabot Friday and Saturday for the GGC championship meet. The Vikings have to finish first at the meet to tie Diablo Valley College for the 1977 Golden Gate title.

Warren Schenstrom (Lynbrook) and Mike Yates (Santa Clara) led West Valley to the double dual wins last Friday.

Schenstrom picked up a pair of firsts and a second and Yates notched a pair of firsts and was a member of a winning Vike 800 free relay team in the West Valley wins.

West Valley handled Cypress 90-23 and knocked off Delta 87-27 in the non-league double dual outing to run its 1977 dual record to 11-2 going into the GGC finals.

Schenstrom won the 200 free at 1:47.28 and the 500 free at 4:24.62 for WVC and added a second in the 200 fly at 2:07.92.

Yates picked up a first in the 50 free at 22.59 with Hardy second at 23.28 and added a win in the 100 free at 49.27 with Mike Wood (Leigh) second at 50.15. Wood was also third in the 200 free at 1:53.86.

Yates combined with Fisher, Bob Miller (Mitty) and Mike Mahan in the 800 free relay for a win at 7:40.92 and Wagnon, Hardy, Bill Yates (Santa Clara) and Mahan got together for a win in the 400 medley relay at 3:48.14.

Brandt won the three meter diving event with 245.75 points and was second on the one meter board at 218.55. Steve Peckham (Campbell) was third in each event.

Hardy was tops in the 200 breast at 2:24.62 with Ed Fernandez (Camden) third at 2:24.92 and Fisher was a winner in the 1,650 free at 17:11.63 with Miller third at 18:42.48. Wagnon was number one in the 200 back at 2:08.22 and number two in the 400 individual medley at 4:25.91.

JC state swim meet at WVC

THE BEST Junior College swimmers in California will converge in the West Valley College pool on May 5, 6 and 7 for the State Community College championships.

The state's top swimmers, and divers who annually rank among the best in the nation, will compete in 18 swimming and diving events during the three days of competition.

Swimming will begin each day at 10 a.m. with finals at 5 p.m. each evening.

Diablo Valley and West Valley rank as strong contenders from Northern California for top state honors along with Pasadena from Southern California.

Area preps star at SJ Relays

A PAIR of Santa Teresa Athletic League athletes notched top marks to pick up first places in the high school division at the prestigious San Jose Relays last Saturday at San Jose City College.

Willow Glen's Mark Stillman and Leland's Pat Graham each walked off with individual wins in the tough prep field at the relays.

Stillman romped to an impressive 4:11.54 in the mile to claim a first and Graham heaved the shot put 58'7" for a number one finish to lead the STAL showing at the meet.

Camden came up with a strong finish with four place winning efforts and Blake Fearnside of Del Mar picked up a pole vault fourth to pace the West Valley Athletic League performance at the meet.

Mark Stewart was third in the 100 meters at 10.88 and second in the 200 meters at 22.08 for Camden to spearhead the strong Cougar showing at the Relays. He also was a member of the Camden 440 relay team that finished second at 43.85. All three of those were second section races.

Oravetz suffers 1st loss of year

IT WOULD have taken a National Junior College record tying effort for West Valley College's Steve Oravetz to win the pole vault last weekend at the ninth annual San Jose Relays. And it just wasn't to be on Saturday for the Viking star.

Oravetz lost for the first time this season when he tied for second place in his specialty at the prestigious event on the San Jose City College track.

El Camino's Charlie Brown won the event with a 17' vault, just an inch short of Oravetz' National JC record of 17'1".

Oravetz and his Viking teammates will return to the track this weekend for the Bakersfield Relays on Saturday. The following Friday the Vikes will close out the Golden Gate Conference dual meet season against San Francisco and Laney.

Thomas, McMaster crack low rounds for Jaguars

Mitch Thomas and Mike McMaster each walked off with medalist honors in matches last week for the San Jose City College golf team, but the Jaguars could manage just a split in Golden Gate Conference play.

McMaster (Leland) fired a low 75 at The Villages but San Jose dropped a 35-19 decision to the College of San Mateo.

San Jose came back a few days later behind Thomas to crush Diablo Valley College by the same score, 35-19.

Shiraishi has come along way for dream

ANY ATHLETE seriously interested in becoming a professional has a long road to travel before trading in his amateur status for a pro's paycheck.

But few have traveled farther than West Valley College's Shozo Shiraishi, geographically speaking, in his bid to become a professional tennis player.

Shiraishi decided that California was where he should be to learn the finer points of the game. So he packed up his racquet, shorts and tennis shoes and hopped on a jet for the 6,500 mile trip to the United States. It seems Shiraishi has visions of becoming a pro tennis player — but a Japanese pro!

Shiraishi has hopes of becoming one of the top professionals in his homeland and has come to the United States for a few years to sharpen up his game so he can accomplish that goal.

Ranked third in all of Japan among juniors, Shiraishi was running out of competition in the Far East country when a friend of his family invited him to California last summer.

Shiraishi decided to attend West Valley College and is currently one of the top players on the Viking tennis team in just his freshman year.

"He wants to become one of the top professionals in Japan," said WVC head tennis coach Dan Braden of Shiraishi, residing in Saratoga during his US stay. "That's his goal, his lifelong dream."

"HE HAS a burning desire to become a professional," added Braden. "He works out every morning at 7 a.m. on the ball machine and after matches he'll go back to the courts and work out for four more hours under the lights. He's the hardest worker we've ever had here."

Shiraishi is off to a good start in his promising tennis career. He's been playing the game for the past seven years and was a high school star in his hometown of Nara in Japan, located 400 miles north of Tokyo.

The 18 year old came to California for more competition and has responded with improvement and strong performances.

"He's beaten some outstanding players this year," said Braden. "And he's improved quite a bit. Now he can play the net. He's improved through his own hard work. The good players need the drive to excel and he's got it. He's a hard worker."

Shiraishi, who will travel the tennis circuit this summer, will play one more year at West Valley before heading back to Japan to get his pro start.

"I definitely think that he has what it takes to become a professional," said Braden. "He has all the talent necessary and he's very, very strong. He's got the desire — he's going to make it!"

German booters visit Spartans

IT'S NOT EXACTLY the intercollegiate soccer season, but the San Jose State University soccer team will be in action nonetheless this weekend at Spartan Stadium.

The Spartans, just back from a road trip to play the University of Nevada in Las Vegas, will play host to the Sudwest Sportverein Soccer Club of Ludwigshafen, Germany, on Saturday, April 16, at 8 p.m. at Spartan Stadium.

The Sudwest soccer club is on a two-week tour of California as part of a sister city exchange program with the city of Pasadena and will reach San Jose on April 15. The group includes 20 players, the Mayor of Ludwigshafen, Burgermeister Dr. Eric Reimann and other city dignitaries.

Easy Perez, the two-time NCAA scoring leader, all-conference goalie Sean Keohane and midfielder and playmaker Albert Gaspar will lead the Spartans into action against the Sudwest team that plays in the third division of the German Soccer Federation.

The Spartans won the West Coast Intercollegiate Soccer Conference title last fall and participated in the quarter-finals of the NCAA play-offs.

A preliminary game Saturday will feature the Lady Lobos and a women's intramural soccer team from San Jose State at 6 p.m.

Tickets for the game are priced at $2 for adults and $1 for students and may be purchased at the SJSU ticket office. All proceeds will be donated to benefit the fall soccer program at San Jose State.

Deserving Cardinals nab Spartan crown

WHEN THE Stanford University baseball team entered the seven team field for the first annual Spartan Baseball Classic on March 28, the Cardinals held a 27-8 record and were ranked high among the best in the nation among collegiate diamond teams.

Well, those Cards proved that their record and high ranking were both well deserved by rolling past everyone in sight to pick up the first Spartan Classic Crown.

Stanford won six of seven games, including a 15-6 victory in the championship game over UOP, to claim the tourney title.

It was a fine performance for Stanford because the Cards were just coming back after losing a three game set to the University of Southern California.

"Winning the San Jose tournament was a super rebound," said first year Cardinal boss Mark Marquess. "It was tough to get going after losing three games to USC."

Pepe Hinojosa hit .550 (11 for 20), including a four for five effort with three runs-batted-on in the title game, to lead the Cards to the tourney title. Hinojosa was the tourney most valuable player, top hitter and "Charlie Hustle" award winner.

Pitcher John Yandle and third sacker Gary Pitchford also picked up all-tournament spots for the Cards. Second sacker Rich Guardino was an all-tourney choice from San Jose State University.

Sophomore center fielder Mike Codiroli, a Campbell area product and grad of Mitty high, was three for six with a pair of rbi's in the title game for the Cards. Codiroli is now hitting .331 on the year for Stanford with 37 rbi's, four doubles, six triples and four home runs.

Tom Guardino, a product of Campbell high school, was two for four to help Stanford to the win in the title game.

IN OTHER GAMES in the tourney, John Bridgeman, a local baseball product, flipped a six inning one-hitter to lead San Jose State to a 16-2 win over USF.

Steve Bell, a grad of Branham and West Valley College, was three for four with a double and two rbi's and Dave Wickersham (Willow Glen), was two for five and knocked in two runs. Jay Peryam (Del Mar) knocked in two runs with a triple.

T. Guardino was two for four with a double and two rbi's to lead Stanford to a 6-3 victory over UOP.

Wichersham doubled and R. Guardino, Rick Lane (Mitty/West Valley) and Steve Ferguson each belted two hits in a 6-4 San Jose win over Arizona.

Tony Biondi (Lincoln/San Jose City College) and R. Guardino each doubled but the Spartans lost 3-1 to Oregon State.

Thad Troedson (Camden) battled Arizona to a 3-3 tie for San Deigo State, allowing just nine hits in the game.

Mike Couchee (Los Gatos) outdueled Gary Kleinfeldt (Pioneer) to lift San Diego to a 9-4 win over UOP. Couchee tossed a six hitter, fanning 10. Dave Pursey (Camden (was two for four for San Diego.

Hinojosa ripped four hits and Codiroli chipped in with a double to drive Stanford past the Spartans 9-2.

Codiroli was three for three with a double and two rbi's and T. Guardino was two for four with three ribbies to rip Stanford to a 9-0 win over Oregon State the same day.

Codiroli tripled to pace the Cards to a 7-2 victory over USF in Stanford's tournament opener.

Lane doubled in two runs and Bell, Peryam, Wickersham and Randy Johnson each had two hits but San Jose lost 5-4 to UOP.

Ebersole looks sharp

Sunbirds lose pair of key vet starters

WITH THEIR 1977 season opener little more than a month away, the San Jose Sunbirds received some bad news last week.

Starting lefthand hurler Marilyn Burnett and all-star shortstop Mary Flint have both indicated to San Jose Sunbird general manager John Bruno that they will not return to the Sunbird fold this season.

"Marilynn said she just doesn't have the desire to play softball anymore," relayed Bruno after talking with the Sunbird southpaw. "She said she'd be our biggest fan and be at all of our games."

Burnett, who was 15-9 with a 1.33 earned run average last season, in addition to hitting .297, was being counted upon to be a mainstay in the Sunbird rotation.

Flint, meanwhile, apparently is trying to reacquire her amateur status so that she can once again play for the Yakima Steelers.

FLINT, despite being slowed by a bad hamstring pull early last season, was one of San Jose's most consistent performers in 1976 and one of the best shortstops in the Women's Professional Softball League. Her .261 batting average was fourth best on the club and she stole 18 bases.

The Sunbirds may have come up with a couple of quick replacements for Burnett and Flint this past weekend during a doubleheader scrimmage at Hoover junior high school.

Fireballing Rhonda Ebersole and utility infielder Teri Mariani, a pair of former Southern California Gems, may be the answer to the Sunbirds' problems.

Ebersole, who is in her senior year in high school, was a 17 game winner with the Gems, who had the worst record in the WPSL last season.

"She looked pretty good," said Sunbird manager Gary Cunningham, after watching the 18-year-old in action last Saturday. "She has a good variety of pitches and I was very impressed with her talent and the poise she showed for an 18-year-old."

Ebersole tossed five innings in the first game of the inter-squad practice and picked up the win, allowing just three hits and one run.

Mariani, meanwhile, made her first appearance with the Sunbirds a successful one by lashing three hits, including a double, and playing sparkling defense at short.

Other standouts on the day included newcomers Cindy Reynolds, Connie Staff, Sue Lindh and Rayona Sharpnack.

Reynolds and Staff both rapped four hits on the day while Lindh clubbed three, including a pair of home runs.

Sharpnack, another former Southern California Gem, belted a pair of home runs in addition to pitching five shut-out innings and allowing just two hits.

Meanwhile, Sunbird veterans Diane Kalliam, Karen Ambler and Cheryl Stewart also had strong outings.

Kalliam and Ambler, who smashed a home run, both collected three hits while Stewart allowed just one run and four hits in four innings on the mound.

The Sunbirds will take on West Valley College's women's softball team Saturday, April 23, in a doubleheader at WVC in Saratoga. The first game is set to start at 9 p.m.

SCU gridders home for five in 1977

THE University of Santa Clara varsity football team will play a 10-game schedule this fall, including five home games in Buck Shaw Stadium, it was announced by Pat Malley, Santa Clara athletic director and head football coach.

Highlighting the 1977 slate will be road games with cross-town power San Jose State University on Oct. 8 and with Fresno State University on Nov. 19.

The Broncos will play five home contests, starting with their opener on Sept. 17 with Sacramento State University; Sept. 24 against U.S. International University; Oct. 15 vs. Humboldt State University; Oct. 22 against Navada-Reno and Oct. 29 vs. UC-Davis.

Also on the fall slate are games at Cal Poly Pomona on Nov. 12 and at Cal State Northridge on Nov. 23.

Campbell-Moreland Pony league gets underway

CAMPBELL - Moreland Pony League will present a preview of the 1977 season this weekend when it stages its annual Jamboree.

All nine teams, including the expansion team MaGoo's Pizza Pirates, will participate in a double elimination tournament in which the outcome of a series of four-inning games are determined by points rather than runs.

It is a fun-type tournament for which there are no prizes awarded to the winners. It was designed to provide the fans an opportunity to get a preseason look at the teams, six of which will be outfitted in new uniforms. The boys also get a chance to gain a feel of the competitive element before the season officially begins Saturday, April 23.

Jamboree rules call for four-inning games, a complete roster batting order and the requirement that all players must play at least three defensive outs of each game. Points will be awarded for such things as singles, doubles, triples, homeruns, stolen bases, etc., while points can be subtracted for errors, passed balls or wild pitches.

No time for Pisces to be pigheaded

April 16 through April 22

ARIES (March 21-April 19): A little press and push could lead to career advancement, Ari. You know instinctively where the pressure must be applied. Do it. Before week is over, loved one worms way into your heart. You glow.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Happy Birthday Taurus! You are practical, patient, generous, sensual and (ruled by the planet Venus) the sophisticated lover par excellence. You have an excellent business sense — the ability to make money and to hang on to it. Capricorn, Pisces play key roles this year and November will be important month. The worm turns.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Wires of communication tangle, personal plans snarl and romantic involvement reaches vanishing point where all perspectives appear to join. In short, Gem, just another routine week.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Read message to Gem. Deal concerning property value may be considered. Concentrate on cold, hard facts. Change, variety, member of opposite sex — all very significant. Week ends on key of F, for fly, Is it an airplane? Is it a kite? Is it a balloon? No, it's Moonbaby!

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Money matters highlighted. Beware of "deal" which seems too good to be true. It is. Usually Leo, you're not an easy one to fool, but this time a certain charmer may have combination to your money belt. Week clicks to noisy fini.

VIRGO (August 23-Sept. 22): The Law of Virgo states: As one problem is solved, another one immediately takes its place. Have a pocketful of ready solutions this week, Virgo, for "Nature abhores a vacuum." Week ends ratherly weakly. Sorry about that.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Capricorn enters picture. You two travel well together as long as you manage to avoid emotional quicksands. Cap is strong, and you Libra, are just. When strength and justice join forces there is precious little that can deter progress toward good.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): After a rather tacky beginning energy returns and (strictly off the record) you establish new record. Your restless heart finds peace.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 Dec. 21): You have a resisting segment in your personality, Saj, which supplies you with both strength and vitality. Draw on this strength to help you make important personal decision. You know the one. Week ends on an upper.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Read Libra. Challenge marches into your life like a little toy soldier and you are tested. You take giant step toward personal goal. Oh-Oh, did you say "May I?" If not it's back to square one. Sorry.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Week starts on note of confusion, but by third day hidden truth zaps you right in the chops. Taurus storms into picture. Week ends on note of B, for bag, baffle and bonhommie.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Change abounds so remain flexible. If you say "But I've always done it this way!" you miss marvelous chance for growth. Line separating persistence from pigheadedness is almost imperceptible.

With less water in our reservoirs because of the drought, PG&E's hydroelectric generating capacity is down to less than half of normal. To make up the difference, we have to buy and burn more high-priced oil. Which means that the cost of electricity will be the highest ever. To make matters worse, what we're paying for natural gas, and therefore have to charge you, is already the highest ever.

What you should do about it is clear. Use less. Not only to conserve power, but to keep your bills as low as possible.

The examples on this page are based on today's rates. If those rates go up still further, the need to save will be still greater. If there were ever a time, and good reasons, to cut down on your use of energy, that time is now. PG and E

The less you use, the more you save.

GOV. APPROVES SALT WATER FOR SWIMMING POOLS

FREMONT, CA.—New FILTER enables swimming pool owners to use salt water right out of the Bay. This ingenious idea was developed in anticipation of our present drought and water rationing situation. Most pool and supply dealers in the Bay Area can give you details on how it works.

One company representative states "Salt water does not work well with gunite and plastered pools." Mr. Gary Knittel of Geni Pools, Inc. states that "Salt water does not leave a curd or algae residue on swimming pools made of vinyl liners or fiberglass." Fresh water is still available for pools.

An Affair to Remember with BEA RENÉ

© Bea Rene 1975

Here's a new dining discovery . . . a charming new French restaurant . . . GERVAIS – a sparkling jewel serving haute cuisine in the true French fashion. Partner Leon Mardirossian has been a gourmet since a child, while Chef/partner Gervais Henric has cooked in some of the finer restaurants around the world, & is a graduate of the Cordon Bleu School in France. Delicacies such as Entrecote au Poivre, Noisettes d'Agneau, Parisienne & Cuisses de Grenouilles, Provencale are only enhanced by the delightful decor – soft blue carpeting & elegantly draped windows, rich oil paintings, crystal chandeliers . . . A marvelous find! Located at Park & Naglee, San Jose. Call for reservations, 275-8631.

North Beach is here on the El Camino in Santa Clara . . . MAMA BONGIORNO'S serves authentic Italian cuisine w/a continental flair! You'll love the exquisite decor & the soft piano selections played as you're enjoying her fine cuisine. Early Italian dinners are featured 4-6 p.m. for only $4.95. You'll be served soup plus salad, plus pasta plus entree plue fr. vegs., w/dessert & beverage. There's 5 gourmet entrees every nite, such as fr. Calamari dishes, Chicken Parmigiana, Veal Shanks, Roast Leg of Lamb, to name a few. Or, if dining later, try MAMA BONGIORNO'S Vitello Gamberi or Bongiorno's Linguini Cacciucco. Simply delightful!

One of the most romantic settings I've discovered is the lovely new continental restaurant in the Old Mill Specialty Ctr. – "UPSTAIRS AT THE OLD MILL." You'll feast your palate on gourmet entrees of Poached filet of, Salmon, thick Filet Mignon, or perhaps Escargots soaking in garlic butter. You may dine beneath the sparkling chandelier in the elegant D.R. or al fresco, on the wide patio dining area, overlooking the Old Mill waterwheel & pond.

When I stopped by CLEMENTINE'S RESTAURANT, it was filled with a luncheon crowd who'd been shopping in the new Stfd. Shopping Center – it was evident they were now relaxing over a cool libation & enjoying a delightful lunch amongst the memorabilia of the 1920 Flapper Days. I'm absolutely entranced w/the huge silk Tiffany shades which hang over the tables – the lovely hues of violet, lime, blue & buttercup yellow are absolutely outstanding! A spectacular, decor!

People who love California history plus good food get both at SIRLOIN AND BREW UNLIMITED. Actual blow-up photos of early prospectors, gold miners, pioneers and Californiana adorn the walls of the Belmont location. Pictures of Jack London and other renowned figures are part of the distinctive, relaxing decor of these picturesque restaurants where you get unlimited wine, beer or sangria with dinner. (Incidentally, Champagne, all you wish, also goes with dinner on Mon., Tues., Wed.)

Dining at the 94TH AERO SQUADRON is just like visiting a French Farmhouse – a nostalgic atmosphere reminiscent of golden bygone days of the fabulous Flying Machine – enjoy the cocktail hour w/"ROXANNE" who plays danceable music from 4:30-8 p.m., at which time the popular "CHAD JEFFERIES" takes over Tues.-Sat. nights, 8:30-1:30 a.m. in the downstairs bunker lounge/disco – ROXANNE is there every Sun. w/big band sounds of the 40's. "CHAD JEFFERIES" plays your requests & contemporary music – his collection is fabulous!

It always pleases me after I've told my readers about a good restaurant & hear their compliments . . . the LOS GATOS LODGE'S new Continental dinner menu has become very popular & my "chapeau is off" to Chef Wilhelm. Sep. banquet rms. are available as well as the outdoor Wedding Garden for either your spec. "affair" or party. The lounge is always busy w/the talented "JUST US" Sat. & Sun. - & "BURGUNDY" - Mon.-Fri. nites.

Reading between meals

By DOROTHY TERRILL

EDITOR'S NOTE — Dorothy Terrill, a registered dietitian and instructor at De Anza College, holds a M.S. in nutrition from UC, Berkeley. Questions about nutrition are invited. Address all questions to: Dorothy Terrill, Nutrition Notes, Suburban Newspaper Publications, Inc., P.O. Box 657, Cupertino, 95014. Mrs. Terrill will anser questions as space allows.

IT'S OFTEN hard for consumers to find a reliable nutrition book when they do want information. This week's column will list some recommended books for the interested reader. There are several written about general good nutrition: Realities of Nutrition, by R. Deutsch; A Diet for Living, by Dr. Jean Mayer; The Family Guide to Better Food and Better Health, by R. Deutsch; Nutrition Today, Runyan; and Let's Talk About Food, by Dr. Philip White.

If you are interested in knowing more about additives and trying to make up your own mind whether or not they are good or bad, there are two books I can recommend. They are The Chemicals We Eat, by Dr. Benarde which tells about the chemicals which occur naturally in foods, and Eater's Digest, by Michael Jacobsen which explains the usage of common additives and tells why the author thinks testing is inadequate in many cases. These two books do give two sides to the additive story.

IF YOU are tempted to turn to so-called "health foods" for nourishment you might read one or both of these books first: Health Foods Facts and Bakes, by Sidney Morgolius and The New Nuts Among the Berries, by R. Deutsch. Both are written with a sense of humor so will make for interesting reading. The second book is just off the press but should be in most area bookstores by now.

For readers who have children or who are working with children, I can recommend these books. Feed Me, I'm Yours, by Vicki Lansky. This is a cookbook with a nutrition slant. The recipes are designed for children to participate in food preparation. Creative Food Experiences with Children, by Goodwin and Pollen' is an excellent manual for the pre-school or elementary teacher who wants to include food and nutrition experiences in the classroom. Cook Cooking for Kids, by McClenahan and Jaqua is a recipe book with nutrition information.

THERE ARE numerous government bulletins available which are an excellent source of reliable information. They are either free or available for nominal sums. Write to Consumer Information, Public Documents Distribution Center, Pueblo, Colorado, 81009 for a catalog of titles available in foods and nutrition. The local USDA Cooperative Extension Service can provide answers to many questions and also has bulletins available.

If readers can't find some of these books and want the publisher's name, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to me and I'll get the information to you.
